FOREWORD . . .

As a member of the Agnes Scott Community you, the student stand on the threshold of the future. Here, in your preparation for the larger scope which awaits you, you have found something more than a few buildings or an assembly of people. You have found something both transitory and lasting—the Agnes Scott World.

In this world you have been not only student but individual. Here you have chosen your friends; directed your interests; discovered your capabilities; and developed awareness, tolerance, and understanding.

Here you have approached maturity through the sum total of the experiences which have made up your college life. It is you, the student, the living link with past and future, that we have tried to picture, you, and the year 1954 as you lived it.

WALLACE McPHERSON ALSTON

President

Our president, Dr. Alston, is both a leader and a friend. Through his high intellectual attainment, his understanding, and his gracious way of living, he inspires us to seek for ourselves a way of life that will best uphold the Agnes Scott Ideal.

A D M I N I S T R A T I O N

Miss Scandrett, our beloved dean of students, has been the adviser, counselor, and comforter for the entire student body. Every girl knows how a chatty talk in Miss Scandrett's office seems to resolve her problems. Our dean's sincere interest in each individual is the key to her popularity.

CARRIE SCANDRETT
Dean of Students

No student ever neglects an opportunity to swap a joke with Mr. Stukes. In addition to his indispensable position as an adept counselor, he is the personal friend of every girl on the campus. He never seems too preoccupied to assist in solving students' problems, personal or academic.

SAMUEL GUERRY STUKES
Dean of the Faculty, Registrar

ADMINIS

J. C. TART
Treasurer

JEANNE COOK
Secretary to the Treasurer

Despite student-caused distractions the administrative offices always manage to maintain a level of complete efficiency. Readily accessible to students, faculty, and visitors on Buttrick's main floor, these offices perform a wide variety of duties. Handling promotion and publicity, managing registration, running the bookstore are all duties of these offices.

P. J. ROGERS
Business Manager

VIRGINIA M. WHITE
Secretary to the Business Manager

CHARLES DEXTER WHITE
Engineer

The handling of college finances lies in Mr. Rogers' capable hands. In spare moments he tries to direct students away from the trodden short-cuts across the grass. Competent Mr. White is our engineer.

TRATION

Besides sending information about Agnes Scott to students who have applied for admission, the Registrar's office also supervises registration during the opening days of school, selection of courses, grade notification and other numerous tasks involving student activities.

DONA BARRETT
Secretary to the Office of the Registrar

LAURA STEELE
Director of Admissions
Assistant Registrar

ELEANOR N. HUTCHENS
Director of Publicity and Alumnae Affairs

ANN COOPER
Alumnae Representative

All of Agnes Scott's publicity is carried on through the director of publicity, Miss Hutchens. Important announcements concerning the college are made public to the campus community as well as to outside sources. The Alumnae office keeps records of the college alumnae.

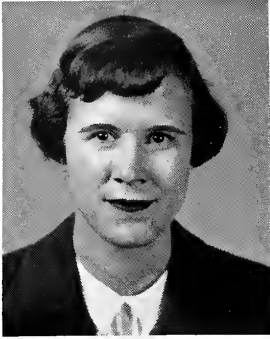

Agnes Scott students have always been welcome to visit Dr. Alston's office either for a friendly chat or for advice. Mary Louise aids in such services as checking convocation attendance and sending birthday greetings to students. Mrs. Garwood manages the bookstore where students can buy anything from cokes to kleenex.

MARY LOUISE WINTER
Secretary to the President

EVELYN GARWOOD
Manager of the Bookstore

ADMINIS

IRMA LEE SHEPHERD
Assistant Dean of Students

DORIS SULLIVAN
Assistant Dean of Students

Shep and Sulley "mother" the freshmen over in Inman and Hopkins. Tavie assists Mr. Stukes with vocational guidance in addition to being Rebekah senior resident. Mrs. McCracken and Mrs. Curry are in Main and Ansley respectively.

LILLIAN SMITH McCRACKEN
Assistant to the Dean
of Students

ELA BURT CURRY
Assistant to the Dean
of Students

OCTAVIA GARLINGTON
Assistant to the Dean
of Students

ANNIE MAE SMITH
Supervisor of Dormitories

NADA RHODES WYNN
Assistant to the Supervisor of Dormitories

Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Wynn handle the well-nigh thankless job of dormitory supervision with tact and understanding. Making students comfortable while protecting school property often requires super-human effort. Getting Mrs. Smith away from lost book-cases we find she has a "green thumb."

FACULTY

ART

The art department at Agnes Scott functions actively in the college community. Outside of the opportunities it offers the talented for training and development, the department offers courses in art theory as well as the history and appreciation of art. The department often sponsors exhibits of student and faculty work or that of recognized leaders outside the campus. An additional feature is the regular art lectures.

Mr. Warren and Marie Huper, assistant professor, instructing a sculpture lab.

BIBLE

The student soon realizes Agnes Scott stresses simple religious faith as an ideal to be reached. Coinciding with this Christian ideal is the Bible department's aim to lead the student to a greater understanding of the Bible through introduction to the history of religion and religious thought through the ages.

PAUL LESLIE GARBER
Professor

MARY LILY BONEY
Assistant Professor
C. BENTON KLINE
Assistant Professor

Mr. Garber looking over his model of Solomon's Temple.

FACULTY

BIOLOGY

ANNA JOSEPHINE BRIDGMAN
Professor of Biology

The laboratory is the key unit of the biology department. Here, through actual observation, the student gains an understanding of the life around her. The members of the department have their own special interests, for example, Miss Bridgman has worked on the effects of x-irradiation.

Lorin W. Roberts, assistant professor, and Helen B. Jordan, instructor, engaged in research. . . .

Netta E. Gray, instructor, and Anne Salyerds, assistant, instruct lab students on the whys and wherefores of protozoa.

F A C U L T Y

CHEMISTRY

In the up-to-date chemistry department students are introduced to the laws and principles that underlie the scientific world. Instruction in this important branch of knowledge is conducted in the John Bulow Campbell Science Hall where emphasis is placed on practical as well as theoretical knowledge.

WILLIAM JOE FRIERSON
Professor of Chemistry

Elizabeth Crigler, associate professor, inspects the work being carried out by the organic laboratory.

Assistants Mary Fox and Dianne Shell are at work with weights and balances.

The members of the chemistry department are well known for their variety of interests and their originality. Miss Crigler's fruit refreshments as organic illustrations have received wide student acclaim. Mr. Frierson is known outside the lab for his athletic ability, especially in softball.

FACULTY

CLASSICAL LANGUAGES AND LITERATURES

Under the auspices of the department of classical languages and literatures students are introduced to some of the world's oldest and greatest literature in the original form.

M. KATHRYN GLICK
Professor of Classical Languages and Literatures

Elizabeth Zenn, assistant professor, entertains a few of her students with her music.

In this department the students are concerned with not only poetry, philosophy, and drama of the ancients, but also with the influence of such thought on the world today. Historical appreciation courses are offered in English for those without a language background. The department sponsors the classics fraternity, Eta Sigma Phi. The keynote throughout the department is informality.

MILDRED RUTHERFORD MELL
Professor of Economics and Sociology

F A C U L T Y

ECONOMICS AND SOCIOLOGY

The department of economics and sociology endeavors to develop an awareness on the part of the student of the underlying social and economic principles of the community and society on the whole.

Associate professor, Anna Greene Smith, discusses social problems with students.

The courses offered by this department are supplemented by such practical aids as guest speakers and field trips. The professors themselves believe in an active approach to their subjects. Miss Mell is currently engaged in a study of "The Shifting Pattern of Negro Population in the Atlanta Metropolitan Area." Miss Smith works with the Southern Regional Council and is chairman of the DeKalb County Family Service.

ENGLISH AND SPEECH

GEORGE P. HAYES
Professor of English

EMMA MAY LANEY
Professor of English

Associate professor Annie May Christie, assistant professors Janet Preston, Margaret Trotter, and instructor Lois Elizabeth Barr discuss some themes of their students. Not pictured, Walter Edward McNair, assistant professor.

The English and speech departments reach all Agnes Scott students. The emphasis is on ideas and philosophy as well as on the active theme and composition work. The courses offered by the departments are styled to give the needed background for the college liberal arts ideal and to enrich the individual's later life.

Speech profs, Roberta Winter, assistant professor, and Janet Loring, instructor, pause for relaxation.

MARGARET TAYLOR PHYTHIAN
Professor of French

F A C U L T Y

FRENCH

The popular French department strives not only to familiarize the student with the country and its cultural background but also, through emphasis on grammatical structure, attempts to develop the student's reading comprehension and speaking ability in the language. Such modern aids as recordings are used to better pronunciation.

Assistant professor Pierre Thomas and instructors Catherine Chance and Frances Clark catch up on French geography.

MURIEL HARN
Professor of German

GERMAN

Conversational ability and a broad reading knowledge are both emphasized in the German department at Agnes Scott. Miss Harn is an invaluable well of information about German life and customs. The whole student body is most aware of this department during the Christmas season when Miss Harn displays her nativity figures at her famous parties and carol sings.

F A C U L T Y

History and Political Science

The aim of the history and political science department is the enlightenment of the student as a conscientious citizen, with a background of knowledge of the past for a more comprehensive interpretation of issues today. Courses include all phases of present and past national and world events.

CATHERINE STRATEMAN SIMS
Associate Professor of History and Political Science

In the absence of Professor Walter Brownlow Posey who has been teaching abroad this past year, the department had the services of Joseph O. Baylen, author of John Maunsell, a biography of King Henry III's clerk. Mr. Baylen returned to the States early last fall from a year in Europe and North Africa, where he was professor of history with the University of Maryland's European program. Since Mr. Posey's absence, Catherine Sims has been acting as head of the department. She is also a member of the committee which selects the Fulbright scholarship recipients.

Associate professor Florence Smith and Margaret DesChamps, assistant professor browse through some historical literature.

FACULTY

MATHEMATICS

HENRY A. ROBINSON
Professor of Mathematics

You may not be a math whiz, but this is the department where every Agnes Scott lassie can learn to add, subtract, multiply, and divide; and if you find you have what it takes then perhaps you can study analytic geometry of space.

MUSIC

The music department offers courses in theory and history of music and instruction in instrumental work. The department also sponsors concerts and chapel programs.

MICHAEL McDOWELL
Professor of Music

Associate professor, Roxie Hagopian, assistant professor John Adams, and Isabel Bryan, instructor, form a little trio. Not pictured: instructors Lillian Gilbreath and Irene Harris and assistant professor Raymond Martin.

WALLACE McPHERSON ALSTON
Professor of Philosophy

FACULTY PHILOSOPHY

C. Benton Kline, assistant professor, as he lectures to his class.

The philosophy department offers the student opportunity for mental stimulation and encourages the development of reasoning concerning the facts and principles of reality and human nature. Courses elected in this department are rewarding experiences.

JANET ALEXANDER
Professor of Physical Education

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Associate professor Llewelyn Wilburn, assistant professor Harriette Lapp, and instructors Patricia Ann Story, and Eugenie Louise Dozier plan spring quarter activities.

The physical education department strives to aid every student to achieve the Agnes Scott ideal of physical well-being. The great variety of courses which range from health lectures to dancing instruction, offer an interest for each individual.

PHYSICS and ASTRONOMY

The departments of physics and astronomy offer Agnes Scott students the opportunity to become informed in these rapidly expanding areas of science. Not only do the students have the modern facilities of the John Bulow Campbell Science Hall for their research but have in addition the fine telescope located in the Bradley Observatory.

WILLIAM A. CALDER
Professor of Physics and Astronomy

Professor McMillan and laboratory instructor Robeson help three physics students with their lab.

Mr. Calder is well-known for his motorscooter and his original ideas on "painless" learning of science. The most delightful of these include annual picnics and astronomy lectures accompanied by symphony recordings. Mr. Calder also makes it a practice to have open house at the Observatory so that the entire community may participate.

Psychology and Education

The psychology department attempts to give the student a basic understanding of the principles of psychology for application to her contacts in life. The more specific education courses offer instruction for those interested in teaching.

SAMUEL GUERRY STUKES
Professor of Psychology and Education

Miss Omwake, associate professor, helps Betty Stein and Joen Fagan with an experiment. Not pictured: Miss Emily Dexter, associate professor.

SPANISH

The Spanish department firmly believes in active learning. Not only are speaking and writing fluency stressed, but also students are given the opportunity to display their proficiency by engaging in plays, receptions, and fiestas.

MURIEL HARN
Professor of Spanish

Associate professor Florence Dunstan, assistant professor Melissa Cilley, and instructor Hester Matthews plan a new play presentation.

To the tune of "Diamonds Are A Girl's Best Friend"

By the side of the tracks
 Of the Decatur Railway,
 You'll find us at the school we love.
 Just look in the classes for Agnes Scott lassies,
 Or even look in library nooks
 Among the books.
 The showers run cold, we girls grow old,
 As we wait for an outside line.
 But Sophomore or Senior,
 Lame-brain or genius,
 We're in love with Agnes Scott.

In scarves and galoshes
 We cheer that Georgia sunshine.
 As that ol' rain pours down each day,
 We keep on the beam with home-perms and cold cream.
 We read poetry, play hockey,
 Eat broccoli.
 We're well-rounded, so boys still call,
 And we'll all get a man in the end;
 But frat queen or Phi Bete
 Our aim is to graduate;
 We're in love with Agnes Scott.

SENIOR SNAPS

In the fall quarter of the student's senior year comes Investiture, the dignified capping ceremony which signifies entrance into senior-hood. The day before is by tradition "Little Girl's Day," when the seniors have one last childish fling before they assume the dignity called for by their position as adult leaders. They advance from teddy bears and water pistols to the formal robes which symbolize their newfound maturity.

September nineteen fifty-one—our college days had just begun.
 We unpacked luggage by the ton
 And started life at Scott.
 There were chaperons and Ethan's fall, our own Black Cat in Inman Hall.
 We waited for the sponsors' call
 And the campuses we got.
 Then suddenly Freshman days were past, "We are the Sophomores" came our blast.

We got the slump, but it didn't last
 Our spirits just rose higher.
 Then goodbye to underclassman days, with our rings came Junior ways.
 Two years behind us hear us praise
 Our great third year at Scott.
 Junior Jaunt was ours . . . no one forgets the fashion show, the space cadets.
 "Dreamers' Holiday" banished all regrets
 And our class held the spot.

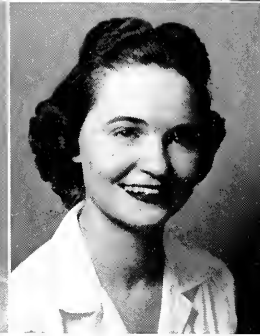

1. Thought you outgrew the colonnade last year! 2. Coed? 3. That's one way to break in a tender-foot! 4. Uhoh—not our angel Paden again . . . Alumnae Pool Incident. 5. What is it? 6. Lib or Letty, you figure it out.

To the tune of "That's Entertainment"

We come, education our aim,
 To Agnes Scott, with its national fame,
 And we'll say, graduation day,
 Hurrah, we made it.
 A school, we don't know any school
 That can boast of such numerous rules.
 Even so, we can still catch a beau.
 That's why we love it.

We work and we slave in the library all week;
 But then after that entertainment we seek;
 It's the one place on earth that is really unique.
 Mr. Jones causes trouble and sends us on the double.
 We sing of the friends that we've made;
 Moonlight nights on our famed colonnade;
 We can put any school in the shade.
 Agnes Scott is the best, the best in the field of education.

1. Stop trying to be so domestic, you two! 2. My don't we look fresh and bright this morning? 3. Ain't we got fun? What we've ALWAYS wanted to do! 4. Don't burn yourself, Patterson—how'd you get in here, anyway? 5. Open wide, madonna! 6. Go home, B. J., you ain't wanted! 7. Say you're having a little dance?

Freshmen are we in the Hottentot fold,
But we have quite a tale, so let it be told.

In our days at dear Aggie, we've come to know
The joys of our friendships, of fresh falling snow,
Of hockey, and tennis, and badminton, too,
Of vespers, and hall prayers when the long day is through.

We've supped on the lawn, sipped pink lemonade,
And even made use of the famed colonnade.

Junior Jaunt and Black Cat have found us in trim;
We've shown all the others how freshmen can swim.

Dennis the Menace, our pal good and true,
Is always on hand when there's something to do.
United we stand, through our gold and our white,
In all our endeavors, both worthy and right.

Yes, freshmen are we in the Hottentot fold,
And this is our story. Now let it be told!

1. Well, VA you could put on some pajamas! 2. Willy and Mac could have come out of a 1925 annual. 3. Alumnae Garden and Hopkins—nice Southern setting. 4. Black Cat Night—Mergie, Carolyn and Doug pose. 5. Third Inman kiddies learn fast! 6. Whoops! shipping offense, kids . . . except on Suppressed Desires Day. 7. 'Sno use, you're no Semsons! 8. Puh-leez, don't get crumbs on the Persian carpet, girls! 9. You can't fool us—you ole 1st Imnanninies, you don't live in Hopkins.

BLACK CAT

Black Cat festivities began at 5:30 p.m. on October 10, with a picnic supper in the dining hall. Following the supper, the college community assembled in the gym where each class performed its school spirit song for the judges of the annual song contest. The juniors walked away with the honors in this event. The sophomore, junior, and senior classes each presented a skit

Clara Jean McLanahan, "Queen of Dreams"

On February 13, the junior class presented for the entertainment of the community "A Dreamer's Holiday." In this campus-wide charity drive the total contributions reached $2005. The money was to be divided between the World University Service, the United Negro College Fund, support of a Greek war orphan, and Genny Lucchese dances in the fashion show.

SENIOR OPERA

Charmin' Carmen.

Harassed opera writers: Simmons, Zuber, Fagan, Hill, Rainey.
Well matched roommates: Carmen (Connie) and Rita (Caroline).

Pritchett and Dryden make with the overture.

The class of 1954 came forth with "Charmin' Carmen," a parody on the opera Carmen as its final production for the campus community. A group of harassed opera writers appeared before the curtain deploring the lack of dramatic talent in the senior class.

Carmie was suggested as capable of playing the lead, for it had been rumored that she could sing. But with an outburst of song the committee turned Carmie down because she had "no looks, sense, poise, or personality." The curtain rose revealing a delightful resume of Carmie's college experiences.

MAY DAY

A Knyght Ther Was

In the days of chivalry in Merry England Sir Edward, a youthful knight secretly loved the fair Princess Gwendalon, who was to marry Sir Herbert. Only knights of valorous deeds might wed the Princess. Sir Edward conquered the dragon, dealt a fearful blow on Sir Herbert and won the hand of lovely Gwendalon.

Lords and ladies a-maying came. The peasants danced and all joined in the gay festivity. A merry dance around the maypole closed the gladsome day. And Sir Edward (Louisa Allen) and Princess Gwendalon (Ann Sayre) in perfect happiness lived thereafter.

Our campus newspaper, the Agnes Scott News, is published and supervised entirely by the students themselves. The News forecasts, informs, and reports on the events around campus as well as analyzing campus opinion and conducting crusades. The Wednesday afternoon issues can be expected to deal with anything from the latest Tech formal to international politics.

The Agnes Scott chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, national honorary society, was established on this campus in 1926, thus making Agnes Scott the ninth women's college to receive such an honor. Each spring, members of the senior class who have excelled in high scholarship, liberal culture, and good character are selected for membership.

W H O ' S W H O

Each year ten members of the senior class are chosen for "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities." The ten are elected by the senior class, approved by an administrative committee, and accepted by the "Who's Who" Board.

Christian Association strives for the achievement of another Agnes Scott ideal—a simple religious faith. Every student is either a member or an associate member of the organization. All religious activities on campus are under the supervision of Christian Association. The theme for this year's program was "What shall I do with Jesus which is called Christ?" (Matthew 27:22)

JANE CROOK
President

Vice President Ellen Griffin and Freshman advisor Virginia Lee
Floyd.

One of the Agnes Scott "Big Three" the Christian Association program includes numerous projects such as chapel programs, vesper programs, '57 Club for freshmen, hall prayers, the annual "sock hop," informal discussions with students from other colleges around Atlanta, World Affairs and Religious Emphasis Week. This year Dr. Albert Mollegen of the Episcopal Seminary of Alexandria, Virginia was the Religious Emphasis Week speaker, speaking in chapel daily, leading group discussions and conducting personal conferences. Off-campus activities, such as Day Camp and visits to the Scottish Rite Hospital, are supervised by the Christian Association Council.

ART STUDENT LEAGUE

Although the Art Student League has not been functioning as an organized group this year, the Silhouette staff felt that some mention should be made of the active part that these students have taken this past year in the college community. The productions of Black Cat, Junior Jaunt, The Firebird, and May Day were made possible through the active part that these students took in the construction of backdrops, scenery and props. These same girls have spent many Sunday afternoons serving as hostesses for the art exhibits. It is the sincere hope of the campus that this group will really become organized next year and that they will continue their service to the community.

BIBLE CLUB

The aim of Bible Club, made up of those interested in obtaining a fuller understanding and appreciation of the Bible, is to develop more responsive Christian leadership. Among its projects, the club has been posting the names of the girls in the infirmary, acting as informants on Solomon's Temple and sponsoring a discussion group after a lecture by Albert C. Outler.

BLACKFRIARS

Blackfriars, the Agnes Scott dramatic club, offers an opportunity for students to participate in acting and play production. This group, organized in 1915, is the oldest club on campus. Each year the group presents two full one-act plays. This year the club presented "The Grass Harp" and "Moor Born." Membership is based on dramatic or technical try-outs.

COTILLION CLUB

Cotillion is the only school organization whose sole purpose is to promote social activities on campus. Each fall the club gives a dance for the freshmen, followed by a series of teas at which students of all classes may tryout for membership. The gala event of winter quarter was the Cotillion "Mardi Gras" formal. In the spring Cotillion entertains its own members.

B. O. Z.

PAT HALE
President

The upperclassman writing club, B.O.Z., encourages creative writings by Agnes Scott students. The members exchange criticisms on original writings at monthly meetings.

F O L I O

Becky Deal, Dorothy Rearick

Folio offers membership to freshmen with creative ability and a desire to write. In the spring Folio publishes an anthology containing the best of each member's work.

Standing: Beaty, Curry, Duvall, Nixon, Walkup. Seated: Rearick, Deal, Sharp, Cansler, Benson, Strickland.

FRENCH CLUB

The purpose of French Club is the stimulation of a deeper understanding of and appreciation for the French language, literature and customs. The meetings are devoted to guest speakers and informational programs.

Sara Dudney, president; Nancy Thomas, secretary-treasurer.

GRANDDAUGHTER'S CLUB

Harriette Potts, president; Sarah Petty, vice president.

On the floor: Joanne Smith T, Anne Gilbert, Mickey Scott, Jane Gaines, Sarah Petty, Peggy Pfeiffer, Louisa Allen, Anne Sylvester, Dot McLanahan. Back row: Caroline Reiner, Jan Varner, Memye Curtis, Mary Edna Clark, Betty Ellington, Katherine Hanna, Harriette Potts, Pat Welton, Maizie Cox.

The granddaughters are an exclusive group including only daughters of Agnes Scott alumnae. A purely social club, its main activity is a tea in the fall where the old members meet the freshmen granddaughters.

GLEE CLUB

Under the direction of Miss Roxie Hagopian, the Glee Club provides the student with an opportunity to take in choral work as well as providing the campus with many fine choral programs. In addition to furnishing the music for the weekly convocation services, Investiture, Baccalaureate and Commencement, the Glee Club rendered Benjamin Britten's "Ceremony of Carols" and in the spring they were joined by the Dartmouth Glee Club for a joint concert.

LECTURE ASSOCIATION

Lecture Association has been admirably successful in bringing outstanding attractions to the campus. This year's slate included the play "The Miser" and two lectures, one by Lady Rama Rau and the other by Robert Frost.

Louise Hill, chairman

MUSIC CLUB

The Music Club is a fairly new group on campus. Its purpose is to stimulate interest in music. At its monthly meeting various musicians give performances of the music of one certain composer about whom the program centers.

Linda Guenther, treasurer, Carolyn Crawford, secretary; Barbara Northey, vice-president; Lois Anne Dryden, president.

ORGAN GUILD

The Organ Guild is a student group sponsored by the Georgia chapter of the American Guild of Organists. The Guild meets weekly to study registration and organ literature. A tour of Atlanta church organs was the spring highlight.

Lois Dryden, president; Jane Stubbs, secretary-treasurer; Patty Hamilton, corresponding secretary.

At organ: Lois Dryden

PHI ALPHA PHI

Pi Alpha Phi, the college debating society, trains and encourages potential debaters. The club furnishes the members of the inter-collegiate debate team which copped top honors in the Mobile, Alabama, Azalea Tournament this past year.

Joan Simmons, debate manager; Joen Fagan, president.

Sallie Greenfield, Jean Gregory, Joanne Miklas, Harriet Griffin, Judy Brown, Barbara Flesman, Joen Fagan, Joan Simmons.

SOCIAL COMMITTEE

Standing: Julia Grier, Ann Hanson, Caroline Lester, Martha Guillot. Seated: Jane Davidson, Nancy Whetstone, Addie Steans, Betty Ponder, Carol Tye, Beverly Watson.

Chairman Nancy Whetstone and Secretary-treasurer Addie Steans.

Social Committee is a representative organization whose main purpose is to promote the ideal of gracious living on campus, serving where the need may arise in the campus social activities. The projects for this year were the redecoration and care of the snack bar, the donation of a new record player and records for the rec room, and the presentation of the "Where and When" fashion show for the freshmen.

SPANISH CLUB

The Spanish club is open to students interested in the Spanish language and Spanish culture. Meetings feature guest speakers, Spanish songs, films and plays.

Chairman, Caroline Reiner, Betty Stein.

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

First row: McGinty, Richardson, Griffin. Second row: Mathews, Knight, Grier, McElroy, Legg, Gaines.
Third row: Beeman, Shippey, Muse, Prichard, MacConochie.

The Board takes it easy at their outdoor fireplace.

The Agnes Scott Athletic Association functions through a sports program designed each year by the Athletic Board, in the interest of certain needs of the members of the community, both individually and collectively. By promotion of team sports, A. A. inspires Class Spirit—the community spirit of sharing both defeats and victories; by providing a wide variety of individual sports, it develops self-confidence and provides an outlet for self-expression. The accuracy of the archer, the endurance of the swimmer, the fighting spirit of the halfback—all these are important contributions to the character of our citizens. Relax, recreate, reduce; support your ego and your team.

Our archers will keep the tennis courts cluttered with arrows practicing for three main events. The sophs and frosh took the class tourney in a tie; B. Huey, J. Gregory and C. Crawford took individual honors. The Intercollegiate Telegraphic is a big spring event.

A.A. is NOT a racket! just because manager Barbara Huey gets her name on the loving cup this fall . . .

S O F T B A L L

The faculty-varsity game is always the highlight of the season. Mr. Hayes' kerchief is as familiar to us as the rain; and mgr. Molly Prichard can tell you it's no trouble at all to get the pro pros out for five innings.

With Mary B. Robinson at the stern the Seniors came home with the championship last spring . . .

G O L F

You say who's that in Mrs. Story's car? Why Pat, Llewellyn, and mgr. Harriet Griffin hiding from the mobs that go to the East Lake course for a round every week on sunny fall and spring days.

Judy Brown and Harriette Potts drove, puttied and sliced into first and second places in the tournament last spring.

B A D M I N T O N

The highlight of the Birdie Season was lessons from Ken Davidson, a pro, at Emory. Joen Fagan and Katherine Mathews took the doubles tourney. Katherine, mgr., incidentally, won the singles.

An addition to the Athletic campus—AA, under the influence of Mrs. Story and mgr. May Muse, decided to adopt a new member—Tennis Club. Projects: faculty matches and clinics.

Carolyn Herman hops the net to Suzie Burns in the finals of the singles tourney.

WEARERS OF THE LETTERS

Left to right: Knight, Groom, Matthews, Allen, Fagan, Ellington, Beeman, Legg, Flemming, Patterson, Grier, Born.

The Agnes Scott letter is awarded to girls who have proved to be outstanding in athletics, with respect to both skill and sportsmanship. When a total of 800 points has been amassed, under the Athletic Association point system, the letter is awarded. The points must have been received in more than one sport. For every additional 400 points gained stars are given to the wearers of the letter.

DOLPHIN CLUB

Jane Gaines, the swimming manager displays her excellent backstroke form.

The Swimming Scotties presented "After Dark," the traditional water ballet against a 10th avenue backdrop. Directed by Mrs. Story and mgr. Jane Gaines, the members worked out and perfected their own numbers. Wednesday practices throughout the year enabled them to "keep in shape" and to give their best in the production March 3.

Norma Chamblee and Maizie Cox.

DANCE GROUP

Helen Sewell with Louisa Allen in the background.

The dancing class of A. S. citizens seeks both to satisfy individual interests and to entertain the campus lay in their annual ballet. Their presentation this year, "The Firebird," was especially appealing on account of the original interpretation of the Slavic ballet, costumes, and scenery. The group even shared its talent with the citizens of a larger scope in College Park.

SPECIAL EVENTS

Through Lecture Association and the University Center programs Agnes Scott is brought into contact with prominent members of the larger world such as Mark Schorer, Professor of English and novelist, who spoke on "The Novelist In The Modern World"; Alfred Northrup, Professor of Philosophy; and Lady Rama Rau, Indian delegate to the United Nations and our own Robert Frost whose general topic this year was "One Way of Looking at Poetry." Lecture Association also brought Players Incorporated to the campus in Moliere's "The Miser," a sparkling, gay production of much vitality and freshness which the whole campus greatly enjoyed.

Other speakers during the year were Mr. Roy LeCraw, prominent Atlanta lawyer whose subject was "What We Can Do About International Tensions;" Dr. Henry Radford Hope, noted art historian who gave a fascinating lecture on "Modern Art During The Last Twenty-five Years" with slide illustrations; and Professor Schaeffer of the University of Strasbourg, an authority on archaeology and discoverer and excavator of the ruins of Ras Shamrah, the ancient city of Ugarit. These inspiring personalities and productions have contributed a valuable part of our liberal education.

A black and white photograph of a desk with a microscope and various engraved items. The microscope is on the left, with its lens and frame clearly visible. The desk is covered with several engraved items, including a book titled "Spectrum", a book titled "Veteran's", a book titled "The Stars and Stripes", a book titled "1947 TABS", and a book titled "The White House". There are also some papers and a small card with the name "Lina" written on it. The background is dark, making the items on the desk stand out.
